

WILSON ADVISES U. S. COMMISSIONERS

PRESIDENT GIVES AMERICAN MEDI- ATORS NO SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

Are Told to Place Themselves in a Receptive Mood and Await Proposals, That U. S. Troops Will Remain in Vera Cruz Until Trouble is Settled, and That Peace is Conditioned on the Elimination of the Huerta Administration.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Wilson today told the American commissioners who leave tomorrow for the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, Ont., that the United States troops will be kept at Vera Cruz until the definite settlement of the Mexican problem.

The president gave the American commissioners the same message of the supreme court of the United States; Frederick W. Lehmann, former solicitor general and diplomatic secretary H. Percival Dodge, no specific instructions.

The ywere told the place themselves in a receptive mood and await proposals from the three South American mediators. But at the same time, he said that peace seemed to him to be conditioned on the elimination of the Huerta administration and the establishment of a strong provisional government which would conduct an election giving fair treatment to all factions and guaranteeing, more-over, a solution of the agrarian problem and other internal difficulties which have been removed during the last three years. The president wishes the Mexican question settled on comprehensive lines that will take into account the economic principles for which Zapata in the south, as well as Carranza in the north have been fighting and will at the same time conserve the rightful interests of the people in the territory now controlled by the Huerta government.

During the day a despatch came to one of the foreign diplomats here from a diplomatic source in Mexico City stating that General Huerta was ready to resign and would permit his representatives at the mediation conference to eliminate him if it should become absolutely necessary. Intimations that have come through the three Mexican delegates since their visit to this country showed that they had realized Huerta's elimination was regarded as essential to a settlement and knew from the outset that unless they came prepared to deal with this phase of the problem efforts would be fruitless.

The Huerta delegates too, it is learned from persons who have talked with them, understand thoroughly that the scope of the mediation has been broadened beyond the differences which arose out of the arrest at Tampico of American blue-jackets and now comprises the entire Mexican problem.

The Huerta delegates are said to be ready to recommend Huerta's retirement but only on the condition that a definite understanding is reached on the kind of government that is to follow.

President Wilson in his final talk with the American commissioners at which Secretary Bryan also was present spoke hopefully of the mediation. He is earnestly desirous that it shall succeed and indicated that every power and legitimate influence at the disposal of the American government would be exerted to make it succeed.

Though the constitutionalists have not yet agreed to take part in the mediation one high administration official held out hopes today of their ultimate participation, saying a misunderstanding which might be remedied in a short time was largely responsible for their failure to be represented at Niagara Falls.

The president laid before representatives the entire Mexican problem as he saw it, emphasizing that the duty of the United States was to seek unselfishly to assist Mexico to see set up a constitutional government which could be accorded recognition by the world, because of its capacity not only to maintain peace within its confines, but to observe international obligations.

Phases Closely Interwoven.
The Huerta delegates have conceded privately to the friends that the international phases of the Mexican question are closely interwoven in the internal affairs of their country. The mediators have taken a similar position in their communications to General Carranza saying that the international and internal questions were inseparable. In fact, they have worked out in a general way, a plan which they will submit to all factions. One feature of it became known definitely. It seeks to eradicate the perplexing agrarian question by prescribing a division of lands in away that will be satisfactory to the masses, but its details have not been revealed.

All the suggestions and plans are to come from the mediators to the two parties represented at the negotiations and there is high authority or the prediction that when plans each a tangible form they will be submitted to Carranza as well as to those who are believed to have influence with Zapata.

Gives Autograph Letters.
The president gave his representatives autograph letters to present to the mediators. These letters refer to the unofficial character of the representatives and indicate clearly that the final decision on questions propounded so far as the United States is concerned will be made by the government at Washington.

pected to reach a climax in a short time. The president does not look for protracted negotiations believing that before many days a definite idea of the concessions which General Huerta is ready to make will be obtained.

If the Huerta delegates are conciliatory and show themselves to be amenable to the plans proposed by the mediators and acceptable to the United States, an effort to draw the constitutionalists into the agreement undoubtedly will be made.

In constitutionalists quarters the talk of a compromise arrangement by which Huerta would retire in favor of a neutral person and cabinet who would conduct an election and guarantee certain immediate reforms has not yet made much of an appeal. Constitutionalists representatives here say their military campaign is daily growing more aggressive and that in another month they will have settled the Mexican question by forcibly taking possession of Mexico City.

The military situation in Mexico, however, is giving the Washington government some concern. At the meantime and while confidence that mediation will be successful runs high, there are those in the cabinet and administration who are apprehensive lest a sudden and unexpected turn of events may affect the entire status of the negotiations. Some sporadic outbreak among Huerta's troops, irresponsible hostilities against the American forces of complications at Tampico where the constitutionalists are in control it is realized, may at any moment alter the whole situation.

With the occupation of an important seaport like Tampico the news of an attempt to levy on these forced loans under color of voluntary subscriptions to the constitutionalist cause has brought prompt action by Secretary Bryan to learn the facts. It has been said that the subscription was intended to apply again only to Mexicans and Spaniards. But the might be easily brought under the guns of a Spanish man-of-war, one of which is now cruising off the Mexican Gulf coast, is situated differently from the small Spanish merchant loated in some obscure interior village beyond the reach of the protecting arm of his own government. Realizing the possibility of international complications and some vigorous action on the part of the Spanish government which it was particularly desirable to avert at this stage. The state department has informed the constitutionalist leaders that they should not administer the laws with "severity" a hint which it is believed, will readily be understood. It is not further representations in clearer language are expected to follow.

BEVERIDGE SEVERELY CRITICIZES DEMOCRATIC MEXICAN POLICY
Indianapolis, Ind., May 18.—Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator and now a candidate on the Progressive ticket for that office, severely criticized the Mexican policy of the Democratic administration at a dinner of the Indiana progressive club here tonight.

Mr. Beveridge declared that he could not see where mediation by the South American republics would result in peace.

"Assuming that the 'A. B. C. mediation' settles all these things for us and that we submit," said Mr. Beveridge, "what then are the mediators to do with the hordes of professional bandits and murderers who are making Mexico a shambles? I repeat that everybody wishes to avoid war, but let those who are in the administration's conduct because they feel that a ruse may be patched up, remember that history shows that this is not the way to avoid war; but on the contrary the way to make real war inevitable."

"Feebleness of purpose and uncertainty as to policy never yet prevented war,"

Mr. Beveridge criticized President Wilson for not taking definite action before the American blue-jackets were arrested at Tampico. In this connection he said:

"Subjects of foreign nations were killed; yet although the administration asked these governments to look to the United States for the safeguard of their property and the lives of their subjects, these outrages were hushed up."

"But when a Huerta subordinate arrested a half a dozen blue-jackets at Tampico offense was taken."

"Admiral Mayo properly demanded a salute to our flag, the first decisive action in the whole sixteen months of halting blunders."

WASHINGTON LEPER ESCAPES FROM QUARANTINE STATION

John R. Early Escapes From Diamond Head Station—Was Last Seen in Victoria, B. C., Saturday.

Seattle, Wash., May 18.—John R. Early, the leper whose case attracted wide-spread attention a few years ago, has escaped from the Diamond Head quarantine station near Port Townsend where he has been assigned under the United States public health service and is at large. News of his escape was received today by Dr. Eugene Helley, state health commissioner. Early was last seen in Victoria, B. C., last Saturday.

A bitter controversy arose over his case, scientists disagreeing concerning the nature of his disease.

"The investigation is to determine where the trouble lies with the police, the laws, the courts, or the juries."

Agreed to joint resolution appointing George Frederick Kunz as a member of the North American Indian memorial commission.

Passed bills to authorize a bridge across the Missouri river near Kansas City. To permit sales by supply department of the army to certain military schools and colleges; and to open public roads on Winnebago, Omaha and Antee Sioux Indian Reservations in Nebraska.

Senate.
Confirmed nomination of Chas. Warren of Boston to be assistant attorney general, succeeding Jesse C. Atkins.

Received from reserve bank organization committee arguments and briefs considered in the selection of federal reserve districts and cities.

Debate on toll exemption resumed. Agricultural appropriation bill taken up.

Adjourned at 5:50 p. m., to noon Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—With the tolls exemption battle nearing a vote, sentiment in the senate is growing in favor of a substitute for the pending bill to provide for the submission of dispute to an international tribunal. Although senators have discussed this proposal are by no means sure that it will prevail, they claim that many of their colleagues are willing to adopt this course.

Senator O'Gorman, leader of the forces fighting repeal will not consent to arbitration it was said tonight and the proposal undoubtedly will meet with vigorous opposition among senators on both sides of the issue. It was pointed out, however, that before the house passed the repeal bill President Wilson was willing that the question should be settled by arbitration. During the day's three sessions, two Republicans and one Democrat added their voices to those who see in arbitration the best way out of the difficulty. Senator Sutherland made a vigorous speech on the exemption repeal bill, asserting that arbitration was one way to settle the dispute. Senator Williams announced he would gladly vote for arbitration and Senator Works agreed that this plan was desirable. A resolution providing for submission to arbitration has been introduced by Senator Norris and may come up for consideration before a vote on the repeal itself is demanded. On the Republican side today it developed that Senators Root and Lodge, as well as others who are prominent in the fight for repeal, would favor arbitration. A two thirds vote of the senate would be required to pass an arbitration resolution. Those opposed to the idea pointed out that arbitration would mean a long delay and that in the meantime the canal would be opened and operated and many complications would arise no matter what the decisions of the court might be. No effort apparently has been made on the Democratic side to sound out senators on the plan. Democratic leaders who expected a vote on the repeal bill next Monday discovered today that the chance for this hope being realized were growing slim.

Senator Jones gave notice of his intention to speak on the repeal bill on that day and it was understood that other senators might decide not to speak before Monday.

ROOSEVELT RETURNS FROM LONG JOURNEY TODAY

Former President Said to Be Returning From Explorations in Weakened and Near-Ill Condition.

New York, May 18.—Theodore Roosevelt's return journey from the jungles of Brazil will terminate probably late tomorrow with his arrival at his home in Oyster Bay, Long Island. He is a passenger on the Booth Liner Aida, which is due at quarantine about 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. If the steamship reaches port at that hour Colonel Roosevelt will be taken off at quarantine and transferred to a tug which will carry him to Oyster Bay.

If the Aida gets in after dark the colonel may stay on board until the vessel docks in Brooklyn and go to Oyster Bay by train. On the tug which will meet the Aida will be only members of the Roosevelt family. From his South American explorations the former president is returning nearly ill from his encounters.

For days Colonel Roosevelt was a passenger on the Dunstan before being transferred to the Aida. At Manaus, some 850 miles from the mouth of the Amazon, the colonel was assisted on board the Dunstan for the trip down the river toward the Atlantic. He remained confined in his cabin for three days, on the fourth he appeared on deck and when a few hours later at Para, he stepped aboard the Aida, Captain Alexander said, the fever from which he had been suffering had disappeared and the wound on his leg due to an operation performed at Manaus for an abscess was fast mended, he had gained in weight, his appetite had returned and he was in the best of spirits.

According to friends of the Roosevelt family, the impression that the colonel is returning a sick man probably arose over their efforts to have him reach his home without being hailed by the public on shore. The family is desirous of avoiding a demonstration.

It was an explorer who limped up the gang plank of the Dunstan on May 1st, according to the stories told by Captain Alexander and his officers today. That morning Colonel Roosevelt had undergone an operation for the injury sustained to his leg while trying to save a canoe in the river rapids during his tour of exploration. He was brought on a stretcher in an automobile to the Dunstan's dock. He refused to be carried on to the boat but leaned on the arms of two companions and walked with difficulty.

Kermit Roosevelt and Leo C. Miller and George K. Cherry, naturalists, members of the expedition, accompanied the colonel to the ship. Kermit left the party there to go to Spain where he is to be married. Miller and Cherry are with the colonel on board the Aida.

Several monkeys, a bear, and some of the inanimate fruits of the exploration trip arrived tonight on the Dunstan.

SECRETARY'S ASSURANCE CAUSES MUCH GENERAL SATISFACTION

Will Be No Immediate Withdrawal of Troops From Colorado Strike Region—Consider Steps Toward Mediation.

Denver, Colo., May 18.—The assurance from the Secretary of War that there would be no immediate withdrawal of the United States troops now on guard in the strike region caused much satisfaction among the strikers, mine owners and state officials today. Meanwhile steps toward mediation are being considered. The legislative committee appointed to confer with the governor will take up means of restoring peace on May 22nd.

Governor Ammons has indicated that even if the federal troops are withdrawn before the trouble is adjusted, he will not send the militia back to the coal fields until their presence there is imperative.

INVOLUNTARY PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY MAY BE FILED

Proceeding is Suggested to Effect Settlement of Affairs of Two Banks Which Closed Their Doors Saturday.

Chicago, May 18.—Involuntary petitions in bankruptcy may be filed in the federal court tomorrow to effect a settlement of the affairs of the Brookline Commercial & Savings bank and the Midway Commercial Savings bank which closed their doors Saturday. Neither bank opened today.

The bankruptcy proceeding was suggested tonight by a committee of depositors that met with William Forsberg, who with Joseph Ashurst owned both banks. Ashurst did not appear at either bank and is believed to be out of the city. The depositors tonight appeared to sympathize with Forsberg and apparently held him less to blame for the bank's failure than his partner.

Other depositors suggested taking charge of the bank's affairs, getting financial aid and seeking to get their money out by that means.

Mr. Mellen has informed the commission that he will reveal all facts in his possession concerning the intricate stock manipulations by which the New Haven acquired some of its subsidiaries. He promises to give not only dates and details of the transactions but the names of persons who promoted and profited by them. BECKER DEFENSE TO OPEN CASE TODAY

BOTH THE PRISONER AND MRS. BECKER ARE EXPECTED TO TESTIFY

Notorious New York Murder Trial Is Nearing End—Case is Expected in Hands of Jury by Saturday Night—C. B. Plitt, Jr., Former Friend of Becker's Takes Witness Stand to Testify Against Him.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Swearing that Charles Becker asked him to kill Jack Rose, both before Rosenthal's murder and after Rose was arrested charged with taking part in the crime, C. B. Plitt, Jr., the former police lieutenant's friend, companion and press agent, completed the case for the state against Becker today. James Marshall, a negro youth, also took the stand to swear that he saw Becker and Rose talking at the Harlem conference which was declared by the court of appeals to have been the "heart" of the conspiracy to murder Herman Rosenthal.

The slain gambler's wife was among those who testified, before State's Attorney Whitman declared his case was complete.

Plitt said Becker had asked him while on board a train on the way from New York to the death house at Sing Sing to make away with Rose. After Rosenthal had been slain, Plitt said that he had met Becker who was indignant at the way the killing had been accomplished.

"What is the matter with Jack Rose and the bunch?" the witness quoted Becker as having said. "To pull the stunt that way was very bad. You would suppose it was being done for the moving pictures." On July 15th, the day before the murder, Plitt said he saw Becker at the police headquarters.

"Becker told me," said the witness, "that he and I had to have an alibi for that night. 'Keep away from Times Square tonight,' he told me." Plitt showed signs of nervousness during his testimony lowering his eyes under Becker's gaze. After the murder the witness said that Becker told him to see Rose who had been arrested and tell him he was doing everything he could and for him to say nothing.

The next time Plitt saw Becker the police lieutenant was in the Tombs prison. Becker said, according to Plitt, "didn't I tell you they would squeal? I want you to go out and get everything you can on Jack Rose and tell the men in my squad to testify I had no conversation with Mrs. Rosenthal on the night of the raid."

Plitt said that he saw Becker many times in the Tombs after that. Once he told Becker that a friend of the gunmen had told him to tell Becker that the gunmen wanted $500 and that if they did not get it quick there would be trouble.

"Well," Becker said, according to the witness, "tell them I have not got it now but as soon as I can get my hands on $500 they will get it."

Plitt stuck to his story about being asked by Becker to kill "Bald Jack" Rose, the informer, while Becker was being taken from New York to Sing Sing. He said the interview took place in a compartment of a day coach on a New York Central railroad train and that Sheriff Julius Harburger had permitted it.

Plitt admitted no re-direct examination by District Attorney Whitman that he had lied when he told the grand jury that indicted Becker that Becker was innocent and that Plitt believed he had been "framed up" by Mr. Whitman.

The defense will open its case tomorrow. Whether Becker will be the first witness, his attorneys refused to say. It is known, however, that the former police lieutenant has demanded that he be given an opportunity to speak for himself and the indications are that his wishes will be respected.

Mrs. Becker will positively go on the stand and try to save her husband from the electric chair. She is expected to contradict much of the testimony given by witnesses for the state who swore that Rose and her husband were very friendly. It is understood that she will also attack Plitt.

The case may be in the hands of the jury by Saturday night.

His service for the Union extended over four years. He was present at the battle of New Madrid, the siege of Corinth, Stone River, Chickamauga and Missionary Ridge. After the Atlanta Campaign and the march with Sherman to the sea in 1864, he went with his company through the Carolinas, fought at Boonville, N. C., and at several points in Virginia, going on to Washington at the close of hostilities for the grand review. Mr. Spencer came to this city from Quincy in July of '65 and worked as a mason on one of the buildings of the Jacksonville State hospital. Acting State's Attorney T. F. Smith will be assisted in the prosecution by Judge M. T. Layman, J. Marshall Miller and John M. Butler. The attorneys for the defense are William N. Haigrove and William T. Wilson.

The grand jury also returned murder indictments against Frank Nunes, Mrs. Mary Nunes and Jacob DeOrnellas who are charged with the killing of Antonio Nunes. It will be remembered that Mr. Nunes was shot at his home a few miles east of the city and subsequently died at Passavant hospital where he was a patient for a number of weeks.

J. A. Scalf was indicted on two counts for obtaining goods under false pretenses. Another one of the indictments returned against Lloyd O'Leary for child abandonment and there are two against Dick Wallace and Essie March, one for horse stealing and the other for grand larceny.

The grand jury still has a great deal of work in prospect and naturally T. F. Smith, who is acting state's attorney has his time crowded to the limit. States Attorney T. F. Smith is improving steadily in health and strength but is not yet able to resume regular work although he may be in court when the docket is set next Wednesday.

Duff, Samuel Tribbett, C. W. Johnson, Jas. Pfeil, J. H. Laurie, James N. Green, W. W. Ewing and George Fredlander.

The program as formerly published in the Journal will be carried out and there will be teams present representing Springfield, Decatur, Bloomington, Lincoln, Mt. Pulaski.

The program of the first day will consist of ten fifteen bird events and ten pair of doubles, and also a night shoot of five twenty-bird events. The team shoot of tomorrow at 1 o'clock promises to be an interesting event. There will be twenty-five targets to each man and also ten fifteen-bird events.

There will be a strong competition for the beautiful loving cup donated by the Western Cartridge company of Alton and the Interstate Association has donated six gold watch fobs which will be given to the six highest places for the two days regular program of three hundred targets.

The local committee has everything arranged for the visitors and aside from the shoot, they plan to show them about the city. James A. Groves, who has been president of the Nichols Park Gun Club since its inception but recently accepted a position as superintendent of the Chicago Gun Club, is in the city to attend the tourney.

MORTUARY

Smith.

William Oliver Smith, a brother-in-law of Mrs. William Newman of East State street died Monday at his home in Roodhouse. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock from the Methodist church in Roodhouse. Mrs. William Newman has already gone there to attend the funeral. The Roodhouse Record in speaking of his death says:

"Wm. Oliver Smith passed away at his home in Roodhouse at noon today, following an extended illness with heart trouble and other complications. Deceased is survived by the widow, and one son Joe Smith. He had been engaged in the livery and transfer business in Roodhouse for many years and enjoyed an exceptionally extensive acquaintance not only at home, but amongst a host of those transient visitors and salesmen who become intimate acquaintances with him through years of association in his business. Mr. Smith was 66 years old."

Allen.

Miss Emma Allen, whose sudden passing was mentioned in the Journal of Sunday, has been a resident of this community for many years and will be mourned by a large number of sincere and devoted friends. She was born in Petersburg, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Allen. She was reared in that city and lived there until the death of her father when the family moved to Jacksonville, purchasing a house at the corner of North Prairie and Jordan streets. It was in this house that Miss Allen resided until she went to live with her sister, Mrs. W. H. H. King. She was one of a family of six children and is survived by her sister and one brother, John Allen of Bluffa.

Miss Allen was a faithful and devoted member of State Street Presbyterian church where she has been a constant attendant, willing worker and friendly counselor. For her self-sacrifice and unselfishness she was beloved by many and her constant willing to serve and spirit of Christian charity will hallow her memory for untold years to come.

Miss Allen was known for her activity in the work of the several church societies. As a member of Sorosis she took a lively interest in the things that make for culture, refinement and self improvement and to all interests of the organization she was faithful and true. She was secretary of Sorosis at the time of her death—the organization to which she had been so valued a member while living. Miss Allen received her collegiate training in Monticello seminary, forming there the habits, the earnest studiousness which have stood her in good stead all through life.

Miss Allen's passing could hardly have been more sudden. She had suffered acute attacks of indigestion but from each of these had seemingly recovered and was in her usual health Saturday, the day before her death. She retired as usual that night and no intimation of illness was received by the family until she awoke her sister shortly before three o'clock Sunday morning and complained of difficulty in breathing. Fifteen minutes later she had passed beyond.

The Noma steamed up the James river supposedly for "Westover" the historic home for which Astor is said to be negotiating. The young multi-millionaire is much improved in his health.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Theta Sigma society of the Woman's college was entertained Monday afternoon by Miss Anna Floeth at her home 523 West College avenue. Games afforded amusement of the afternoon and some delicious refreshments were served.

A number of students of the senior class of the high school enjoyed a picnic supper at Nichols park Monday evening. Those in the company included Misses Alma Mackness, Helen Wintler, Marie Wiswell, Carrie Mackness, Helen Mathis, Helen Harney, Goldie Cohen, Marian Miller and Messrs. Albert Van Burr, Harlan Williamson, Roland Kiel, Eugene Sutherland, Kenneth Berryman, Leonard I. Wood, Homer Paschall and Paul Wells.

Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen entertained the members of the Monday Conversation club at her home in Alexander Monday. This was the last meeting of the year and according to a custom which has been followed for some years, the members went to the Hinrichsen residence for their annual outing. A number went from this city on the morning Wabash and others drove to Alexander. In addition there were ten guests present, making a total of thirty-two. At noon an elaborate tray luncheon was served and the menu consisted of chicken pie, escalloped oysters and corn, bread and butter sandwiches, pickles, young onions, radishes, peach pickles, peaches and cream, cake, coffee and bon bons. In the afternoon a very interesting program was given in charge of Mrs. Garrison, assisted by Mrs. Mary T. Carriel and Mrs. W. S. Jones. The subject was "The Past and Future of South America." At 4 o'clock tea was served, ending a most delightful day. The entire day was spent out-of-doors for the first time in some years, as heretofore the weather has been too inclement.

The May and June birthday social for members of the Central Christian church Endeavor society was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Kelso, 258 West Morton avenue. The time was spent with music and games, causing the hours to pass in all too quick a fashion. In the course of the evening light refreshments were served. The members of the Christian Endeavor society who have birthdays in May or June are Misses Lucille Allison, Mayme Allison, Lucile Reinbach, Amelia Carlson, Martha L. Simpson, Emma Frances Bradley, Mabel Forrester, Marie Finney, Grace McGowan, Mrs. J. L. Proffitt and Messrs. Frank Markillie, J. Philip Read, J. R. Watt, Geo. Peck, Earl Johnston and Ralph Sibley.

FOUR AMERICANS QUALIFY IN BRITISH TOURNAMENT

Onimet, Herreshoff, Evans and Hale Defeat Their Opponents in First Round For British Amateur Golf Championship.

Sandwich, England, May 18.—Four Americans—Francis Onimet of the Woodland Golf Club, Massachusetts, open golf champion of the United States; Frederick Herreshoff, New York; Charles W. Evans Jr., Chicago and Fraser Hale, Chicago—defeated their opponents in the first round today for the British amateur golf championship and thus qualified for the second stage.

Four other Americans—Jerome D. Travers of Mont Clair, N. J., amateur golf champion of the United States; Henry J. Topping, Greenwich Country Club, Connecticut; C. W. Inslee, Oneida Community club, New York and Edward S. Knapp, West Brook—were put out of the tournament by their opponents.

The two other American entrants, Harold Weber, of Toledo, Ohio, and Arthur G. Lockwood, of Belmont, Springfield country club, Massachusetts, did not play—the former because there was not time for all the contestants to play the first rounds and the latter because he had drawn a bye in this round. Both will play tomorrow.

It was the youthful Onimet who played as the British critics had expected Travers to play. The open champion showed himself to be a brilliant and resourceful golfer. He always seemed to be playing well within himself while his putting was not surpassed by that of any other player.

Onimet had as his opponent C. C. McGregor of Manila, champion of the Philippines. At the turn the American was four up and he won the match by seven up with six to play.

Evans, the former Western open golf champion, will meet Bretherton, of Hanswacker tomorrow and Hale will meet Whitton, a youthful Australian champion. Onimet and Herreshoff will not play again until Wednesday when Onimet will meet Tubbs Platt of the Royal North Devon, who is considered a high class golfer.

FORMER HUERTA OFFICIAL

Dr. Urrutia, Trusted Counsellor of Mexican Dictator, Is In Danger of Bodily Injury From Countrymen.

Vera Cruz, May 18.—Hooted and jeered by a mob of Mexicans and called an assassin by one who alleged that his brother had been killed by order of the ex-minister of the interior, Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, who held that office and once was Huerta's most trusted counsellor, was arrested for the second time this afternoon since his arrival here a few hours earlier among the refugees from the capital.

Dr. Urrutia had fled from Mexico City to escape the wrath of the president and had the appearance of an ordinary laboring man when he disclosed his identity on board the American train this side of the gap. He was detained by the American officers and taken before Brig. General Funston, who, however, ordered him set at liberty. He was against taken into custody because of the demonstration made against him but was released for the second time and sent to his room where he is guarded by a marine whose presence was requested by the fugitive in the belief that his life was in danger from his own people.

Antonio Rivero de la Torre, editor of El Dictamen was the leader in the demonstration against the former minister. He appeared in the street beneath the room occupied by Dr. Urrutia at the Diligencias Hotel and began an impassioned speech. He shouted:

"Assassin! coward!" and charged that Urrutia was responsible for the execution of his brother, one of the deputies of the congress which Huerta dissolved. He cried out that Urrutia feared to walk the streets like an honest man and challenged him to appear before the small crowd of his countrymen who had already gathered. de la Torre was arrested and taken to police headquarters and a few minutes later Dr. Urrutia was also taken to police headquarters but there was not evidence warranting his detention he was led back through a great crowd to the hotel. A guard was then placed outside his door. de la Torre remains incommunicado.

This interesting picture was taken at the Vera Cruz wharf where the American troops are landed. It shows the pier after the arrival of one of the transports from Galveston with troops, army wagons, mules, provisions, ammunition and camp paraphernalia. The soldiers are seated on tops of freight cars or loitering on the dock waiting for the order to assemble and take their posts at various points about the city.

PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARIES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Great Interest Manifested in Contest for United States Senatorship.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 18.—Pennsylvania citizens will troop to the polls tomorrow to cast their ballots in the most momentous primary contest ever held in the state. For the first time the candidates for United States senator are to be named by a direct vote of the people, instead of by vote of the legislature. In addition to United States senator, four congressmen, all of the state officers and members of the judiciary, heretofore named by party state conventions, are to be nominated in the primaries for the first time.

It is believed in Pennsylvania that the course of national politics will be determined by the next election in this state. Republicanism hopes to recover its prestige by administering a signal defeat to the Progressives and annihilating their organization. The Democracy believes endorsement of it by the Pennsylvania electorate will so inspire the rank and file throughout the union as to make the party's overwhelming triumph in the presidential election of 1916 a certainty. The Progressives hope that a repetition of their great victory in 1912 will stay immediately the defections which have been so common elsewhere in the nation, revive enthusiasm, and assure Col. Roosevelt a more than even chance of returning to the white house.

The candidacy of Senator Boies Penrose for renomination on the Republican ticket is the big issue of the campaign. Senator Penrose belongs to the Old Guard of Republicans in the upper house, the "reactionaries," as they are termed by the progressive element of the party, and his candidacy for re-election has been made the first point of attack by the Republican national leaders who are seeking to force the retirement of the few old-timers who embarrass the rejuvenation program.

The anti-Penrose Republicans believe they have found a Moses in J. Benjamin Dimmick, who is the opposition candidate to Penrose for the Republican senatorial nomination. Mr. Dimmick is a former mayor of Scranton. He is a Yale graduate and is engaged in banking and manufacturing in a large way. He is not in any sense of the word a radical in politics. While describing himself as a progressive Republican, he believes in a protection tariff and in Republican principles generally. The big question is whether Dimmick's excellent record and personal worth can tip the scales against the mere weight and prestige of the Penrose machine. Another factor in the situation is the vote of the thousands of Progressives of two years ago who have returned to the Republican fold this year, as shown by the registration figures. If they should vote solidly for Dimmick his defeat of Penrose would be assured.

But the veteran politicians who have been sizing up campaigns and forecasting election results for years declare that unless a miracle happens Mr. Penrose will be nominated tomorrow, and nominated by an enormous majority.

The two rival Democratic factions will each have a ticket in the primaries. As the choice of the Wilson administration Representative A. Mitchell Palmer is expected to win the Democratic nomination for United States senator, Vance C. McCormick is the candidate for the nomination for governor with Palmer for senator on the ticket of the reorganization Democrats. The opposition ticket is headed by Henry Budd, a Philadelphia lawyer as candidate for the senatorial nomination and Michael J. Ryan, city solicitor of Philadelphia, as candidate for the nomination for governor.

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, head of the Philadelphia schools, is the Penrose candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. Others seeking to head the state Republican ticket are Edward R. Wood of Philadelphia and Joseph Cautell of Johnstown. The Progressives, who go on the ballot under the designation of the Washington party, will be Gifford Pinchot for United States senator and William Draper Lewis, dean of the Pennsylvania Law School, as candidate for governor. Dean Lewis has opposition in the person of Judge Charles N. Brumm, but his nomination is believed to be assured.

The liquor question is figuring prominently in the selection of members of the legislature. Half of the lower house and an entire state senate are to be elected this year. The local option forces have been pursuing a vigorous campaign and admittedly have the liquor interests worried. The latter are counting on controlling the state senate by a narrow majority, which would place them in a position to defeat any temperance measure, irrespective of the action of the lower house.

The Road to Success.

The best brain effort and indigestion do not go hand in hand. If you would win a lasting success you must keep your stomach in good working order and your bowels regular. This is easily done if you go at it right. Mrs. C. C. Baker, Homer City, Pa., writes: "About two years ago I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation. After I began using Chamberlain's Tablets my condition improved. At the end of a week I could eat and sleep well." Sold by all dealers.—adv.

REV. HY ALKIRE OFFERS SERVICES TO GOVERNOR.

Former Jacksonville Minister Writes to Governor Dunne, Volunteering in Case of Mexican Crisis.

Rev. Hy S. Alkire, formerly pastor of Brooklyn M. E. church of this city, offered his services to Governor Dunne in case of a call for troops from this state for service in Mexico. The facts just recently leaked out and Friday's issue of the Bloomington Bulletin had the following correspondence between the minister and the governor:

Rev. Mr. Alkire's Letter.
Bloomington, Ill., April 21, 1914. His Excellency, Gov. E. F. Dunne, Springfield, Ill.

My Dear Governor: I herewith tender my services, either as a private in the ranks or as a chaplain, should it become necessary for you to send help from this state to the Mexican front.

Three years as college cadet and five years as a member of Co. K, Ohio National Guard, may give me some equipment which may be of immediate use should the demand arise.

You will probably observe that I am a minister of the gospel and may be led to wonder that as such I should be so prompt in offering aid in time of war. I cannot help but do this. Revolutionary blood courses my veins, and my father gave four years in the saddle of the First Ohio Volunteer cavalry. I must be true to my heritage.

Then, governor, you will remember that the Master of us all came declaring that He "brought not peace, but a sword." The sword cuts the way and blazes the path for liberty and peace. We must protect our people in Mexico and I think our honor has been assailed long enough.

"Praying for peace, but keeping my powder dry," I remain
Yours most obediently,
Henry S. Alkire,

906 Summit ave., Bloomington, Ill.

Governor Dunne's Reply.

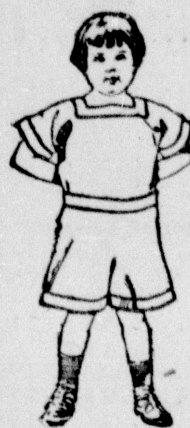

Springfield, Ill., April 30, 1914. Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your recent communication, which has been placed on file for future reference in the event that there is a call for troops.

Very truly yours,
E. F. Dunne.

SENSATIONAL CASE

TO BE TRIED.
Greenburg, Pa., May 18.—A lively public interest is manifested in the trial of Dr. Martin E. Griffith, the Missouri physician, who is alleged to have inflicted wounds on William L. Robertson, a music teacher, which resulted in his death February 14. The case was called in court here today for trial.

The case is one of the most sensational in the history of this county. Robertson had been giving music lessons in the Griffith home. Dr. Griffith returned home unexpectedly and admitted slashing Robertson. He then ordered him removed to the hospital of which Dr. Griffith is one of the staff. The case in many respects parallels the Cudaly case in Kansas City. Robertson was expected to recover, but had a relapse.

The sentiment at Monessen is divided. Dr. Griffith is physician and surgeon for the Pittsburgh Steel company and has an extensive practice. Robertson's home was in Clarkburg, W. Va., where his widow and several children are living.

Putting on the Fat

Out on my farm I am giving a practical demonstration of what can be accomplished with the Wood's Grain Softener.

There are 43 cattle in the bunch. Each steer is getting a peek of corn daily. It is ground, cob and all and then cooked. In addition to the corn, each steer gets about nine pounds of clover hay a day and straw is near them all the time. A man with long experience, who has been watching these cattle, says they are putting on three to four pounds a day. They are sure making good money and the reason is that corn prepared in my cooker has far more nutriment value than fed in the ordinary way. Come and see these cattle.

"Gets-It" for Corns On Your Piggy-Wiggies!

Quit Puttering With Corns. Use This Sure, New-Plan Corn Cure.

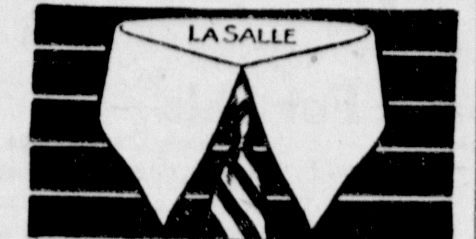

A few drops of "GETS-IT," the biggest seller in the world today of any corn remedy, is enough to spell positive doom to the fiercest corn that ever cemented itself to a toe. It's good-bye Johnnie. You apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds—no fussing with plasters that don't stay put, with salves that make corns "pull" and make the toe beefy and raw, with knives, scissors, razors and diggers that make corns grow faster and that may cause blood poison from corn-cutting and corn-bleeding. "GETS-IT" shrivels up corns, they come right off. That's the new principle. It's just common sense. No more corn-pains. "GETS-IT" is safe, and never hurts the flesh. Get rid of corns and calluses.

"GETS-IT" is sold at 25c a bottle by all druggists, or sent direct if you wish, from E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

EAGLES TAKE SUNDAY CONTEST FROM THOMAS & CLARK PLAYERS

Although Score is Close, the Game is One of the Most Loosely Played This Season.

In one of the most loosely played games at Nichols Park this season, the Eagles were victorious over the Thomas & Clark club of Springfield Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 6. Only two of the thirteen runs made were earned. Abell's umpiring was the cause of considerable complaint from the fans. The score:

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

In preparing for the 500 mile motor race at Indianapolis on Memorial day, the speed demons are knocking the track record into a cocked hat these days. On Friday Joe Dawson circled the two and one-half mile speedway in 1:36.25, four-fifths of a second better than last year's mark. On Saturday, the French driver, Georges Boillet, equalled Dawson's record, and then on Sunday went out and shattered it, going over the course in 1:35.4-5. Large crowds are keeping in touch with the training of the speed kings.

One day the dope from the Ritchie camp has the lightweight taking matters easy in his training for his clash with the Chicago Ghetto scrapper; the next it is changed and has the Californian putting in hours of strenuous endeavor. He was so anxious on Sunday that he could not afford to observe the day of rest, working on the golf links in the morning and going through regular ring practice in the afternoon in a gymnasium. He is now six pounds over weight, to reduce which will keep him going the balance of the time allowed for training.

Davenport's runaway in the race for the pennant has so upset the other teams in the Three Eyes that the managers have become excited and scouting and scouting the country for new material with which to put a few tacks in the path of the leaders.

McGraw's Giants, flushed by their clean sweep at Pittsburgh, entered the domain of Gary Herrmann Sunday and acquitted themselves like a combination of selling platters. Ames, the ex-Giant, held his former cronies in the palm of his hand all the way.

Police officials at Scranton, Penn., on Sunday crabbled a game between the local and Syracuse team of the New York State league, arresting the battery of the former immediately after the first visitor reached the initial corner. Coal City magnates have become alarmed and announce that if baseball is to be stopped on the Sabbath, they are going to see that the blue laws of the commonwealth are enforced, even to the extent of stopping the use of automobiles and street cars on Sunday.

"Heavy Hitting by the Cardinals," is a headline in Monday's papers concerning a game at the Mount City on Sunday in which the Britton outfit trounced Mr. Ebbett's Trolley Dodgers. Heavy hitting by the Cardinals probably will act as a wet blanket on that rumor, that Christy Mathewson has been selected to succeed Huggins in the engineering department of the St. Louis Nationals.

The Chifeds appear to be losing caste on their North Side preserves. A handful of only 7,000 turned out Sunday to watch Tinker wallop the "lively" ball for a homer.

Down in Kokomo, Ind., Bob Wick-er, ex-big leaguer, believes he has the pitching find of the season in a youngster named Nichols. In a game on Sunday against the Muldoons, a Cincinnati semi-pro team, the youngster is credited with a no-hit, no-run game, as well as striking out eight men. Nichols is a name to conjure with when discussing twirling talent. Not many will forget "Kid" Nichols and the Boston Red Sox of the bygone days.

Notwithstanding Detroit is "in bad" with the Grand Circuit officials, the entry list for the Newton racing stake of $2,500 is the largest thus far for the year's classics.

An effort is being made by promoters to arrange a meeting between Packey McFarland and the St. Paul phantom, Mike Gibbons. A purse of $10,000 is to be offered and the ball park at Gary, Ind., has been selected for the battle on the afternoon of July 4. Prominent officials of the Gary steel plant are said to be backing the venture, already having secured the consent of the city officials to stage the bout. If Gibbons consents, the weight will be 145 pounds at 3 o'clock. This meeting undoubtedly will attract the biggest crowd in the history of the game in the middle west.

S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the East. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. MEMORY OF CHARLES S. FRENCH HONORED BY MANY FRIENDS

Funeral Services Which Were Held Sunday Afternoon—Judge
Thompson and Rev. Frederic
Baylis Made Addresses.

The funeral of the late Charles S. French was held Sunday afternoon at the home of his brother, Arthur L. French, near Chapin. Mr. French had spent all his life in that neighborhood and was so widely known that the company which gathered to pay respect to his memory was very large. The impressive service was in charge of Rev. Frederic Baylis assisted by Dr. A. B. Morey and Judge Owen P. Thompson, a life long friend of the deceased, paid tribute to his life and character.

At the beginning of the house service Miss Mabel Mathews sang "Lead Kindly Light" and at the close "Some Where." Rev. Mr. Baylis read the 23rd Psalm which seemed especially in accord with the beauty of the day as well as the solemnity of the occasion. Dr. A. B. Morey then offered a prayer and afterward Judge Thompson made an address. The speaker's words evidently came from a full heart as he referred to the ties of friendship existing between himself and the deceased from his boyhood days down to the day of separation. Rev. Mr. Baylis, pastor of the M. P. church, which Mr. French supported so liberally also paid eloquent tribute to the life of the deceased.

The impressive house services finished, the long cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery where Mr. French was laid to rest in a grave made beautiful with flowers. The many floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Edward Joy, Mrs. John Onken, Misses Isabel Fox, Gertrude Onken, Florence Leonard and Elton Strang Masters.

The committal service was in charge of Dr. A. B. Morey assisted by Rev. Frederic Baylis.

The bearers were Messrs. Alfred Anderson, George Anderson, Otto Johnson, George W. Smith, J. F. Duckett and Edward Antrobus. In his address Judge Thompson said:

Judge Thompson's Tribute.
"I come today simply as a friend to speak briefly of my friend. I know too well the poverty and words and their inadequacy to lighten the cross which must be borne by the family and friends at such a time as this to engage in lengthy discourse. It would be difficult for me to name a time when I did not know Charles S. French. I have known him for more than half a century. During the greater part of that long stretch of years our friendship has been close—even intimate. Possibly my earliest remembrance of him goes back to a time when as small boys, our mothers would take us to the old Methodist church which stood in the northeast part of the now deserted village of Bethel. In youth, in early manhood, and during maturer years, our acquaintance and friendship grew and ripened only to become more close when the descent of the slope with the lengthening shadows of a setting sun was entered upon with uncertain certainty.

"And now that my friend has preceded me to the foot of the slope and, as I confidently believe, has safely 'crossed the bar,' I want to say of him as I hope he would have said of me, he was a true friend; he was a manly man. But yesterday he lived, and today of earth he is not. It was here on this particular spot of ground his eyes first looked out upon the world, and here it was his earthly vision closed; and now for us is left—a memory. How difficult it is to comprehend life and yet the mystery of life is swallowed up in the still greater mystery of death. Reason recoils in its presence, wholly impotent in its unaided strength to reach beyond the grave. We stand beside the still form of our friend, clinging confidently to a faith which alone gives assurance of another and better life. In such an hour as this with what tremendous force comes the thought how utterly useless is life if death were the end of our being. And how comforting the thought when sustained by the power of faith that somewhere, sometime, under the provident mercies of God, a new life in an eternal home awaits us all. Why shall enter? Who shall enjoy? Who would presume to name all the necessary requirements for entrance at the gates of Paradise?

"What finite mind can fathom the depths of a human heart? It requires the infinite wisdom and infallible judgment of a merciful God to strike a true balance on the record of a human life. The accounts, as kept by man, are too often placed upon the wrong side of the ledger. The correct account is found only upon the books of the Recording Angel. The last entry in the record of our friend has been made, and if we were permitted to see what is written there, I am sure the disclosure would reveal an unusual long recital of kindly, worthy deeds. Charles French had a pleasing personality. His manner was courteous and kind. A rugged honesty was the dominating trait of his character. A note of sincere honesty of purpose rang clear in every transaction of his business life. His mind was strong and well poised. He loved people. His sympathetic ear caught the faintest sound of distress as it emanated from the home of a sick or unfortunate neighbor. His aids were high. His purposes noble. He was in the forefront of every movement of civic righteousness in his own village for more than thirty years.

"The influence of his life for good has enriched a whole community. He took great interest, too, in the affairs of government. He believed in law, order and fair dealing. He was a sincere advocate of temperance and morality, and opposed vice of every form. His ideals of citizenship and manhood were high and he lived according to his ideals. He believed in the Christian religion, and he lived the life of a Christian gentleman. He showed no fear when evening came, and met death courageously and hopefully, confidently looked beyond, as he would have us look today. The world is a better world for his having lived in it. He fell asleep, only to 'wake, remember and understand.' The pangs of grief have been unusually bitter which have come to this home, and cold indeed would be the heart which would not be stirred with deep sympathy for the widow in her grief and her enforced absence, for the daughter in her new sorrow added to one so recently sustained, and to the brother so recently bereft of perfect comradeship. Here words fail. To these dear ones of his, to others who were near and dear to him by the ties of nature, and to his multitude of friends, may I suggest that the same hope and trust must rest with you as it did with him in the supreme wisdom of a just and loving Father.

Rev. Mr. Baylis' Address.
Rev. Frederic Baylis in his remarks said:
"Today we are standing on hallowed ground, made so by the earnest self-sacrificing, loving, Christian character of a good mother. Twenty-four years ago at the close of a beautiful day in January, her poor weak and wasted body lay dying and as the last rays of the setting sun shining through the half closed shutters of the old home lighted up her face, she called her two boys to her side and holding their hands said, 'I want you boys to so live that we will all meet again, and no matter what happens I want you to stay together' and she calmly went to sleep and awoke on the other side.

"You who know the boy's lives know how well they have tried to obey their mother and standing side by side no important move has ever been made by either without first consulting the other and by their team work and helpful David and Jonathan love, have accomplished much for their loved ones and this community.

"Charles French to me was a kind friend and helpful companion. Not only is this a community loss but a personal one. I have yet to hear a harsh word spoken of our departed brother and many deeds of kindness he has done in the neighborhood will never be known until the books are opened. He gave generously toward the support of the church of which I am pastor, that church which has dead mother, good by and with her prayers, tears, Christian example and means made possible our present building.

"I did not know Sister French but having heard so much of her beautiful character, it seemed to me every time I spoke in the church the influence of this dear woman surrounded me. Charles French was a kindly soul, rich and poor all looked alike to him. This world's goods did not spoil him. There was no class distinction with Charles French. He was all things to all men. Everything has been done that could be done and as we bow with patient resignation to this dispensation of Providence our sympathies go out to that dear wife and mother, lying on a bed of sickness a thousand miles away. May the God of all mercies restore her to health and strength. Our sympathies go out to the daughter who so lately has been called upon to pass through such deep waters. In the death of her beloved husband, our sympathies go out to that dear brother and his wife in whose home Charles French made the last fight. It was a gallant one, but a losing one and on Friday morning as the sun made beautiful the scenes of his childhood he fell asleep to wake on the other side. He was your friend. He was my friend. God give him rest in peace. Charles French has gone.

"Cold in the grave that perished heart may lie.
"But that which warmed it once can never die."

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.
At a meeting of the directors of the Jacksonville Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Saturday, May 16th, the following resolutions were adopted:
In the death of Charles S. French the company has lost one of its most useful members, who has served on the board of directors for twenty-one years and for six years was its honored president. He was deeply interested in the affairs of the company and gave much time and thought to the promotion of its welfare.

By his modest, genial disposition, his sound judgment and upright life and his generous regard for the good of others, he endeavored himself to all his associates. In his death we feel that we have sustained a real loss.

We tender our sincere sympathy to his family and order that these resolutions be spread on the records of the company.

SWEATER WITH SASH NOW A PICTURESQUE AND POPULAR MODEL.

Paris has some startling ideas in regard to the summer sweater, as may be judged by inspection of the smart French model illustrated here. This sweater comes well below the hips and is put on by drawing it over the head. It has the long shoulder line and is caught in about the waist by a wide satin sash of Roman stripes.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Use Like Cold Cream to Subdue Irritation and Clear Skin.

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur cream. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist. It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur cream has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticide but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubles should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.

TO RETRY NAVAL STORES CASE
Savannah, Ga., May 18.—The United States district court convened for its regular term here today with Judge William L. Grubb, of the Northern District of Alabama, presiding. The most important case on the docket is that of the American Naval Stores Company. This will be the second trial of the case, in which the defendants include a number of prominent business men of Georgia, Florida and other states. In 1909 they were convicted for alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law. The verdict was upheld by the United States court of appeals, but the Supreme Court of the United States granted a new trial on the ground that the presiding judge had erred in his charge to the jury.

ELAM CASE CALLED FOR TRIAL
Kansas City, Mo., May 18.—The case of Dr. W. T. Elam, under indictment for the murder of W. Putnam Cramer, was called today for trial. Dr. Elam is a prominent physician of St. Joseph, Mo. His alleged victim was a well known advertising solicitor and resided with his family in Chicago. The physician had suspected that his wife's affections had been transferred to Cramer. On November 18 last, the two men met in a hotel in this city to talk the matter over. In an altercation that ensued Dr. Elam is alleged to have shot and instantly killed the man whom he accused of "stealing up" at home.

If you will carefully compare the analysis of our ROYAL BRAND BONE MEAL, you will find that the same is cheaper than the use of Rock Phosphate or any other fertilizers which are now on the market.

It only requires from 100 to 150 pounds of our BONE MEAL to an acre of soil, depending upon the condition of the soil.

This will increase your yield of corn or oats from 10 to 2 bushels to the acre for the first year.

COLOR RUSH IS BEING SUPPRESSED

J. H. S. STUDENTS ON RAMPAGE FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

Principal Collins at War With Classes Who Want Colors Displayed In and On Building—Several Seniors Suspended and Forced to Take Extra Work—Flag Pole Cut Down by Order of Board of Education.

The students of the high school have been on a rampage for the past 10 days over an attempt to have a color rush. Several nights ago the freshmen and sophomore members succeeded in getting their colors up inside the building and this was followed later by the seniors and juniors getting inside the building, tearing these down and later still, flying their own colors from the flag pole of the institution. Principal Collins is determined on a course that no color rush of any nature shall take place at the high school and as a result the schedule of high school procedure has been unsettled for several days.

A week ago Thursday a committee from the sophomore and freshman classes held a meeting and took up the question whether or not it would be possible for them to make arrangements to get up their class colors first. The committee had as their spokesman John Walton Collins, a Freshman son of Principal Collins and he was unable to see his father to ask permission to decorate the room.

The next morning (Friday) when the principal arrived, there was considerable excitement over the colors up and the principal ordered the boys to take the long ladders and poles to the attic thinking that there might be some trouble about the matter.

Faculty to Tear Down Colors. At the chapel hour the principal told the student body that he did not know how those colors were put up but heard the other class men were going to try to take them down and he did not want them to do that and that the faculty would attend to that matter. He also warned them against climbing the flag pole.

When the principal arrived at the school grounds at 6 o'clock p. m., Friday a week ago, he saw one of the seniors standing on the grounds not far from the new building. He went up stairs in the assembly room and found the colors strewn over the floor and seats and some few left on the sides of the hall. Mr. Collins immediately rushed down stairs and arrived just in time to intercept a large number of boys who had done the work.

Boys Claim Guilt. On Monday morning the seniors and juniors one by one came to the principal and told them that they were guilty and wanted to make a statement. They said Friday morning shortly after Mr. Collins had made a statement for them not to take down the colors they wrote out an agreement to take down the colors at 6 p. m., Friday. About fifteen signed it. The faculty found out who drew up and started the agreement, got the original copy had it copied and all the names on it. It was then handed back to the students. It was also disclosed that one of the boys had taken a stick reached through a broken window in the Manual Training room and unlatched the window and opened the same and the boys had gotten through this way. The principal examined and took a statement from each one who helped take down the colors and had them sign a statement at their own request.

Students Suspended. A meeting of the faculty was held and it was agreed that these boys should all be punished by being suspended one day; and a maximum of 12 to a minimum of one hour study be given each under Mr. Huber and Miss Carley.

The students were called in Friday morning and the decision explained to them and they were suspended with the exception of two and these two were suspended on the next day. Eight in all were suspended. The boys were punished because they disobeyed the principal's orders in taking down the colors, which he said would be done by the faculty.

It has been said by some of the seniors that the principal was prejudiced because his son was a Freshman and the trouble has resulted from his desire to show favor to the Freshman class. It has been further said his son had the keys and did open the door and let the students in and that the son also purchased the ribbons and that he got his father's consent and that his father was protecting them in leaving up the colors. When asked about this Principal Collins said these statements were all false.

Put Colors on Flag Pole. On Tuesday the eight students were suspended and on that night a body of the students, it is supposed from the senior and junior classes undertook to put up their colors but were thwarted in the purpose because of the presence of people in the building. But they succeeded in going up the first escape outside of the building, scaling the slick roof and placing their colors on the flag pole. This was done about midnight. Next morning several of the teachers were at the building very early and aided the engineer-janitor in taking down the colors and the janitor later through an order of the chairman of the high school committee took down the colors and the flag pole. The teachers considered the flag pole nothing but a temptation for students to risk their lives to put colors up there and they agreed with the Board of Education that the safest thing was to cut the pole down.

The issue in a nut shell according to one of the school authorities is will the students obey the teachers or not; will the teachers or the students run the school. The Board of Education believes that the high school has too many joy days taken from school and they are back of the faculty in suppressing anything that is destructive and not constructive. The students claim that principal promised them a color rush if they did not get a "rough neck" day. Principal Collins claims he made no such promise and did not even know that it had been the custom to have a color rush in the school when he made the statement before the student body relative to taking down the colors.

MANY LOCAL KNIGHTS ATTEND PARISH DEDICATION

Schultz Hall at Beardstown, a Gift For Social Uplift of the People, is Formally Opened.

One hundred and fifty people of this city, many of them members of the Knights of Columbus, attended the dedication of the Schultz hall in Beardstown Sunday. The Jacksonville delegation went on a special train to and from Beardstown arriving home about 6:30 o'clock.

The hall which Mr. Schultz gave to the parish of the Catholic church of that city is a very substantial building, built on the latest models at a cost of $10,000.

Solemn High mass was observed at 11 o'clock at the St. Alexius Catholic church by Rev. Father Henney. At 12:30 a luncheon was served in the new building which has a department especially fitted up for culinary purposes. After the luncheon Father Henney presided in the capacity of toastmaster.

Governor Dunne made the opening address. He spoke of the praiseworthiness of Mr. Schultz' gift and commended him for doing a noble act of following the time-worn custom of for humanity while he lived instead waiting until after his death to have his charity bestowed. The governor praised Mr. Schultz' act of giving the community something that would be a distinctive benefit to the poor and assist them in their social advancement.

Finley J. Bell of Springfield spoke, touching on the opportunities of this country and its freedom which gave men of the character of Mr. Schultz the chance to succeed and benefit their fellow men by such acts as the bequest of the Schultz hall.

The actual bequest of the hall was made in the presence of the assembly, Mr. Schultz turning over the papers or gift, which were accepted on behalf of the parish by Father Henney.

Among others who made addresses were Retiring State Deputy Leroy Hackett of the K. of C.; State Deputy-elect William M. Brown of Chicago, K. of C.; and Judge J. J. Cooke, Bishop Ryan of Alton telegraphed congratulations.

Thomas Richards of Alton was a Tuesday business caller in Jacksonville.

FUNERALS

Tehan.

The funeral services of Michael Tehan were held Sunday morning at St. Mark's church in Winchester in charge of Rev. Father Bell. Music was furnished by the church choir and Clarence Ryan sang "Face to Face." The services were attended by a large number of relatives and friends, who gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to the deceased.

Mr. Tehan was born in Tipperary, Ireland, and came to this country over sixty years ago. He first settled in St. Louis where he was married to Johanna Dwyer, moving a few years afterward to a farm near Murrayville where he resided until the death of his wife eight years ago. Since then he gradually failed in health until a few months ago his condition became such that it was plainly seen that death was fast approaching, and when the time came he gave every evidence that he was ready. He is survived by a son and three daughters, besides other relatives and a host of friends.

The bearers were Thomas and Daniel Winters, Lawrence, Philip, James and John Maguire, all nephews, who were chosen as bearers by the deceased, and the body was laid beside that of his wife in Calvary cemetery.

WITH THE SICK.

John Thompson, residing west of the city who was recently kicked by a horse is recovering in a gratifying manner.

Carl Lukeman, a student at Illinois college is confined to his home near Franklin by illness.

HARRIS CASES WERE SETTLED OUT OF COURT BY AGREEMENT

Entries Made By Judge Jones and the Deeds Placed on Record Mark Settlement of Litigation Involving Large Morgan County Interests.

Entries made on the docket of the Morgan county circuit court and the recording of certain deeds Monday indicate that the several controversies which have arisen between Mrs. Almarinda F. Harris on the one hand and Messrs. Andrew O. Harris and Andrew J. Harris on the other, have been settled without trial formalities. Mrs. Harris was represented by Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty and the attorneys for Andrew J. and Andrew O. Harris were Barber & Barber of Springfield and William T. Wilson of this city.

By the terms of the agreement, it is understood that Andrew O. Harris paid to Mrs. Harris $3,500, this cash payment including the rental to a certain tract of 115 acres for the year ending March 1, 1915. Andrew O. Harris, in the same stipulation, agreed to execute a quit claim deed and subsequently made the deed, conveying all his interests in the land known as the William W. Robertson farm, to the said William W. Robertson. A partition suit, involving this tract, was one of the actions pending in the circuit court.

Further, Andrew J. Harris executed a quit claim deed to John Wesley Robertson, thereby transferring all the interest he had in the Jacob Strawn farm, which has previously been conveyed by Mrs. Almarinda Harris to John Wesley Robertson, and relinquished his right of dower as the husband of Mrs. Harris.

He also executed a quit claim deed to William Walter Robertson and John Wesley Robertson conveying all his interest in the tract of 115 acres, relinquishing thereby his right of dower. Andrew J. Harris also executed a contract waiving and releasing all right in any estate belonging to his wife and agreeing not to make any claim against her estate in case he should survive her. This contract is similar to the one heretofore executed by Mrs. Harris, releasing her right in his estate. The agreement also provided for the delivery to Mrs. Harris of some certain pieces of furniture, etc.

The payment mentioned, the deeds as recorded and the contracts entered into were in full settlement and satisfaction of all claims and demands of every kind made by Mrs. Almarinda F. Harris against Andrew J. Harris and Andrew O. Harris. It was further agreed that Mrs. Harris and Mr. Harris shall live separate and apart and neither shall make any claim against the other for maintenance, support or costs.

The various suits mentioned were of importance because of the large amount of valuable property involved and the large claims brought by Mrs. Harris. The settlement reached brought to an end litigation which might have been long drawn out and expensive.

All members of Jacksonville Lodge No. 570, A. F. & A. M., are requested to meet at Masonic Temple at 11:30 a. m. today to attend funeral of late Brother Elmer E. Hart. Visiting Brethren welcome.

PATRIOTIC DAY OBSERVED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Programs Arranged by Matt Starr
Starr Post G. A. R. Were Carried Out—Veterans Pointed to Lessons of Patriotism From Great Conflict.

Patriotic day was well observed in the city schools. W. J. Moore was named by Matt Starr G. A. R. as patriotic instructor and did his work well. It was his duty to secure visitors from the post for each public school and the parochial school of the city and each place had callers from the post. The day has become one of importance and its observance cannot fail to be of real benefit to the pupils of the schools and the country at large in the way of instilling in the young minds lessons of love to their country and giving them an idea of what the preservation of the union cost.

Morton School.
John Minter was the only visitor here, the gentleman assigned to go with him being out of the city. Mr. Minter spoke suitably to the children and they sang with a will, "Marching Through Georgia" and that old time and ever interesting song, "Yankee Doodle." They also saluted the flag in true heroic style.

Washington School.
Lycurgus Geheon and Major McDougall were the visitors here and they made excellent addresses to the pupils. The pupils sang a number of patriotic songs and saluted the flag in true style and the time was well employed.

Lafayette School.
W. J. Moore, Van Natt and Capt. John E. Wright were the visitors at this school and they not only talked to the pupils but also sang that pathetic song, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp the Boys Are Marching." The pupils sang "Marching Through Georgia", "Star Spangled Banner" and "America". Here too they saluted the flag in regulation style.

Franklin School.
Prof. J. J. Rayhill and Benjamin Wood were the visitors here and the pupils heard good addresses from both the gentlemen and had much to say that was interesting and it was enjoyed by the pupils. The school saluted the flag and sang patriotic songs.

Jefferson School.
The observance of the day was rather more elaborate here than in the other buildings. Comrades J. P. Lippincott, C. R. Taylor and L. R. Penfield made fine addresses to the children and were heard with much interest. S. W. Nichols also was present and spoke. The following programs were rendered:

A Veteran's Comment.

One veteran's comment of the day's observance was as follows: "Yesterday was a day devoted by the G. A. R. instructing the pupils of the various schools in patriotism. The pupils are all patriots and true to the flag, as were the boys of the 60s when the flag was fired upon at Ft. Sumter. A million patriots were ready to show their patriotism by taking arms to protect the flag and the Union. The women were equally as patriotic as the men. The following extract from a letter shows the spirit of loyalty and patriotism writing to her husband May 6th, 1863, a woman said:

"It made me feel awful bad when I learned you were going below, but God will care for you one place as well as another. Put your whole trust in Him and keep your powder dry. I had rather you had gone anywhere else than to Vicksburg, but where glory is to be won is the place for the brave, and I know my dear  is brave and true and loyal without condition to the dear old flag whose thrice blessed folds protect me at home and lead you on to daring deeds for the dear old flag."

There is the spirit of patriotism for the present generation to emulate. Let the mothers, wives, daughters and sweethearts see that the husband, son and lover remembers Memorial Day, Saturday, May 30th, and float the stars and stripes to the breeze. Even if it is a small one, it shows patriotism. You cannot manufacture patriots; they are born. There were none of the manufactured kind from 61 to 65.

It takes more than a piece of chalk and a tape-line to produce originality in clothes.

That's why some makers find their styles such a hit-and-miss proposition. True style must be genuine throughout—not a mere echo of someone else's genius.

"Society Brand"
Clothes have won the custom of punctiliously dressed men, simply because their style sparkles with the force and personality of a master-designer.

REV. MR. GROVES SPEAKS AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

More than the usual number were present Sunday morning at Central Christian church to hear the Rev. W. M. Groves of Petersburg, who spoke on the subject, "Christian Imperfections." Rev. Mr. Groves filled the pulpit of the Christian church during the absence of Rev. Mr. Thrapp in Europe during the summer of 1909, and was pleased Sunday to meet many friends formed during his temporary pastorate here. He took his text from James 3:2, "In many things we offend all," pointing out the sources of imperfection in the Christian life and the method of overcoming them.

"The Christian Race," from I Cor. 19:24, "So run that ye may obtain" was the subject and text of the pastor at the evening service. He compared the Christian life to the ancient Greek races, calling attention to the fact that while in such athletic contests, but one could be the winner, in the Christian race all can win and receive the crown of honor who follow in the footsteps of the Lord.
